A CONTENT MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

The image shows three logos for content management systems: Drupal (a blue water drop), Joomla! (a colorful geometric shape), and WordPress (a circular logo with a 'W').

A screenshot of the North Carolina State University website homepage. The header features the university name and navigation links. The main content area includes a 'Strategic Leadership' article with a photo of General Hugh Shelton, a 'Goldilocks of DNA Assembly' article, and a 'THE WOLFPACK GIVES BACK' article. A sidebar on the left contains various navigation categories like 'CURRENT STUDENTS' and 'ABOUT NC STATE'. A red 'APPLY NOW' button is also visible.
